What are the differences and similarities between the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and the Fair Housing Act (FHA) as they relate to accessible windows and doors? What critical role does the ICC A117.1 play in providing the necessary technical criteria for accessible buildings? What is the purpose, scope, and exclusions of the AAMA 513 test method? What does the impact accessibility requirements have on fenestration design, hardware and product performance?

You will learn all this and more at our Thursday, May 18, 2017 dinner meeting with speaker Bud Henson, Window Tech., Inc.
